"RABBIT TO BE HERE"

On Wednesday, April 11, all Augie girls are invited to a Easter egg hunt which will be sponsored by the WRA. It will begin at 7:00 p.m. in front of the gym and last until all of the eggs are found. Prizes will be given to the big hunter. Hope to see you all there.

It's Your Baby!

ASA President

The ASA Orphans met again last Sunday night and discussed a number of stimulating things — sorry you missed it. We now have our probable financial budget for next year — $43,830. Get requests for next year in by 4:00 tomorrow. None will be accepted after this.

We are looking in to the possibility of establishing a crisis line for those of you bummed out on drugs, ASA, or whatever. Some of the feedback that I've gotten has been to the effect that Teen-Aid phone and Awareness House are not meeting the needs of Augie students. Let me know if you think there is a need for this sort of line on campus. Send your reactions or feelings on this to me c/o ASA.

Our ASA sponsored Indian basketball team brought back a fourth place trophy from the national all-Indian basketball tournament. Congratulations on behalf of the ASA.

I got a tremendous response to last week's article regarding the Augie Bitchers' Club. Incidentally, one person applied for a UBG governorship. Why don't some of you others shake off the shackles of apathy and apply. Tremendous response I can live without, not so UBG governors.

This week's proverb really should fall under the classification of an observation — Most Augie students are like dead turkeys. Now that's fine cynicism for only being five weeks into the course.

KAUR Speaks

Faster than a speeding bullet, able to leap tall buildings with a single bound, more powerful than a locomotive, Look . . . in the sky! It's a bird, it's a plane, no, it's Superman on KAUR. That's right, the exciting adventures of Superman will be aired on "Great Radio Heroes" Monday nite at 7:00 p.m.

Accompanying Superman on the same show will be the straight talking Law Enforcement Agent, Dick Tracy.

"The Open End" on Tuesday nite should prove of great interest to the Augie community. "Religion — Is it relevant today?" will be the topic discussed by a panel of lay and religious personnel. You are encouraged to phone in your comments and questions during the presentation. This is a public service presentation of KAUR 89.1 Stereo FM.

What are you doing Saturday? Why not turn your radio to the hot-spot on campus for "The Saturday Afternoon Jazz Jam-boree" on KAUR.

Every show is a new look at a different phase or personality of the world of jazz. It starts at 12 noon and lasts until four, so it's perfect for entertainment while working on your favorite hobbies or just lounging around.

This Saturday we will be featuring the late John Coltrane, noted saxophonist of the 60's.

Be sure to dial direct — directly to "The Saturday Afternoon Jazz Jam-boree" on KAUR 89.1 FM.

New Society at Ewegustana

(Although this letter was evidently sent to a paper called the MIRROR at ewegustana college rather than Augie, I decided to print it anyway.)

Editor of ewegustana mirror,

We feel we have been slighted. No mention was made of the newly formed society Summum Bonnum in your exhaustive coverage of the biggest event on campus — Spring Rush.

Regrettably no one qualifies for Membership this time, but this should not deter ewegustana students from trying again and again, yea verily once more. You will know when your petition for membership has been accepted for you will find a $50 bill and 2 dozen orchids and 1 harp in your mail box.

The Membership Committee is saddened at the dismal response to their effort to expand membership. However, in light of the stringent acceptance requirements that must be met, but as yet have not been met by any students participating in rush activities, all of the above is understandable.

Purposefully mine,
Howard La Fong

'Student Exploitation'

To the Editor:

I can't believe Helland's decision to get more money for the college by implementing a new food service system. Actually I saw the trend developing a few years ago when to the surprise of the student body, the operating costs in the dorms were cut and we began to use the lowest grade toilet paper on the market. That was the week I started using newspaper because it was softer. The college, if it decides to implement this new food service idea to exploit students even farther, will sort of have us "coming or going" (in-out) as the case may be. I think they have finally gone too far.

Inner-City Scholarship Offers

One Augustana student can be recommended for a scholarship of $2880 for a 12-month participation in the CUTE program for inner-city teaching experience. The student must be a junior, senior, or graduate student. The program would start on June 1, 1973, and run for one full year. During the assignment the student would receive nine course credits and register at Augustana College.

If there are any interested students, please contact either Dr. LeRoy Larson or Dr. Oscar Oksol.

Editorial Comment

I have come to the rather pessimistic conclusion that Augustana students are extremely uneducated. It was my impression that college was supposed to prepare college students for life in the "OUTSIDE WORLD". I can't see how students can be responsible citizens (or how they can claim that title now) when they know nothing about what is happening in the "OUTSIDE WORLD". Admittedly they have responsibilities to their school work but I will be the first to admit that however much I complain, I still have time for newspaper or magazine reading or watching news programs, for an hour or two each day. I could change the word 'day' in the last sentence to week (or month for that matter) and still not include most Augustana students.

I would like to congratulate Augustana students for letting an issue, that directly concerns them and their way of life, die. That is the mealbook vs. the food contract. I would venture to say that the student apathy on this issue has effectively insured that a food-contract system will be installed.

This year the ASA is led by student leaders who claim to have interests that extend beyond the campus and into the community. Therefore the allocations should be interesting. Remember that the allocation requests are due tomorrow (Friday) at 4:00 p.m.

Spring Formal is tomorrow night. I would like to dispell some myths about that yearly event. First although it is called a Formal it does not necessarily mean that men have to wear tuxedos or even suits, or women must wear long dresses. In fact, women don't even have to wear dresses, pantsuits will do. Another myth is that the men have to ask the women to the dance. This is untrue. Girls can ask the guys. (I have it on authority from one good looking male that he would be thrilled to be asked by a girl). The overwhelming expense of prom is also a fallacy. Anyone who spends more than the cost of the tickets (you can even go dutch on those) does so through a personal decision, not because it is necessary. Nevertheless, Spring Formal is tomorrow and tickets are still available. So ask the girl/boy or your dreams. It's never too late.
